

SULLY'S BEAR ASIAN BUFFET

This is a new crag to the left of Sully's Hangout. There are 10 new climbs there, 6 of which are 5.9 or below. The climbing tends to be steeper with good holds. The leftmost 5 climbs dry fairly quickly.

WARNING

- There has been thefts of fixed gear from this crag. It appears that someone is targeting climbs put up by people of Asian descent. Climbers should be aware that gear that was put up by the developers to protect certain moves may have been removed and/or damaged by this individual. This person wants people to get hurt on these climbs. Climbers should be on the lookout for any missing or damaged rock, bolts, hangers, chains and other safety gear. Any incidents because of this is the sole responsibility of the person stealing protection gear.

NOTE

- This is a new crag. There may be grit and loose rocks still. Wear a helmet and do not loiter in the area. Be careful bringing kids and pets here.
- If the developers need to do further work, please vacate the climbs if they request such.
- First Ascencionists get to jump any line on their climbs!!!

APPROACH

- 2 minute
- Go to the far left of Sully's Hangout.
- Look for the path as per the photos.
- Keep away from the wall as you head up as there is deadfall around it. Head out left then back right to the crag. The path is easy to follow.

GEAR

- 9 draws is sufficient for any of these climbs. This includes the anchor draws.
- There are separate chain anchors for each of these climbs.
- Rappel or lower, doesn't matter.

Follow the obvious path away from the wall.
